Ambitious Insurrectos

From all indications the Mexican portion of the pseudo revolution in Mexico is practically a separate institution from the operations in other parts of the southern republic. Most of the recruits are Americans, the maneuvers are dictated and financed by a "junta" at Los Angeles, and a socialistic adventurer from that city is in command. From intimations that are given out these soldiers of fortune plan to grab Lower California, with the vaulting ambition to establish another republic such as Texas was, or eventually add a new star to Old Glory. In fact they have already secured possession of the domain, as the government forces on the peninsula are inadequate to cope with them, and there is nothing to prevent their carrying out their plans and await the onslaught of troops from Mexico City. Ensenada, the little capital of Baja California, on the Pacific coast, has been picked as their ultimate headquarters.

"What dreams may come!"

Joined in Wedlock

At six o'clock Monday morning the Catholic church was the scene of a most happy event in which two well-known Yuma young people joined hands and lives in wedlock. Father Rousseau performing the ceremony which united Frank M. Vierra and Miss Agnes Balsz. The marriage was witnessed by many friends of the couple. Miss Lila Balsz, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and L. P. Heinz was groomsmen.

The bride is a Yuma girl and a member of one of the best known pioneer families of Arizona. Mr. Vierra is a substantial citizen of this community, a Yuma valley land holder and connected with various business enterprises.

The wedded pair departed Monday evening for Los Angeles, where they will spend their honeymoon. They were the recipients of many beautiful and valuable presents from congratulating friends, worthy evidences of widespread popularity and esteem.

Death Ends Long Illness

Dr. William T. Sexsmith, a resident of Yuma since 1895, and one of the best liked and respected citizens of this community, died Saturday night, February 18, at the family residence here, his demise being the culmination of a long and painful suffering from cancer, from which death was a merciful release. Dr. Sexsmith was a native of Washington, D. C., where he was born in 1838. He came here from Kentucky. His widow and seven children—William T., Jr., Roy and Robert C. Sexsmith, Mrs. C. L. Brown, Mrs. G. S. Marable, Mrs. D. L. Russell and Mrs. A. N. Kelly—survive him. George C. Sexsmith, another son, recently died at El Centro.

The funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon, Rev. J. A. Crouch officiating, and a large concourse of mourning friends attended.

Seeking a Franchise

At a meeting of the town council last Thursday evening the Yuma Electric and Water Company applied for a franchise for the operation and extension of their system, under the terms and limitations expressed in the informal application submitted at a meeting of previous date, with the additional provision that the company shall pay for the expenses of the election at which the citizens may vote on the granting of the franchise.

The council cut off the subsidy of $10 a week paid the Yuma band for playing on Main street Sundays.

Demands aggregating close to $500 were audited and ordered paid. Marshal Levy announced that the cost of grading and paving First street between Main and Gila amounted to $832.25, and he was instructed to collect half of that amount from the owners of abutting property.

Buried by Masons

The remains of Cesilio Garcia, the Mexican ruffian who was killed by the insurgents, were interred here with ritual honors Wednesday by the Yuma lodge of Masons, of which order he was a member.

Charley Parks is making preparations for the construction of a residence on Eighth street and Fourth avenue. Architect Brooks has drawn plans for a $1500 structure.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Price, Thursday, February 16, a daughter.

Siphon Giving Trouble

Tuesday night the earth around the outside of the Arizona shaft of the siphon caved in to a considerable extent and at the same time sand and water arose under a tremendous pressure from the bottom of the shaft, and filled it to a height of 35 feet. Eight men who were working at the bottom had a narrow escape, but the cage-lift being down, they were enabled to rapidly make for the mouth of the big hole.

The shaft is now filled with quicksand to the depth stated, and until this is removed the actual conditions at the bottom cannot be known. It is certain however, that the work of the past several months has been destroyed.

County Contracts Let

The board of supervisors met last Saturday and opened bids for contracts for furnishing various supplies and services for Yuma county for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1911, and ending March 31, 1912.

On Monday the board again met and awarded contracts as follows:

J. M. Balsz was given the contract for furnishing fresh meats for the county infirmary. His bid was $850 for 100 pounds of front quarters, and $11.50 for 100 pounds hind quarters, less loin and rounds. Bond fixed at $1000.

Yuma Title Abstract and Trust Company—Records and plats. Bid $380. Bond fixed at $500.

E. F. Sanguinetti—Provisions and cured meats for county infirmary, all clothing and other supplies. Bond fixed at $1000.

P. P. Sanguinetti—All stationery and office supplies. Bond fixed at $1000.

R. H. Stanton—Transporting insane persons to the asylum. Bid $87.75. Bond fixed at $500.

Sun Printing Company—Publishing proceedings of the board of supervisors and all notices of election, proposals for bids, awards, etc. For proceedings, 15 cents per inch; all other legal notices, 15 cents per inch for the first insertion and 10 cents for all subsequent insertions. Also awarded the contract for printing all county supplies of all kinds. Bond fixed at $1000.

O. C. Johnson—Burying the indigent dead, at $7.50 each. Bond fixed at $1000.

The contract for feeding the county prisoners was not awarded. This matter will be taken up with Mr. Levy, the lowest bidder, next Saturday morning.

High School Theatricals

Tomorrow night at the Yuma Theatre the students of the Yuma Union High school will present two plays—"Gertrude Mason, M. D." and "The Conspirators"—two clever skits in which the roles will be sustained by class members. Admission, 50, 35 and 25 cents.
